This is your opportunity to be part of a round table discussion to bring your business to a higher level by learning how to network and develop strategic alliances with other professionals.

Susan Iverson, CFP, Dallas Chapter President, will lead this discussion and provide "take-aways", giving you techniques that you can use immediately when you leave. For those new to the business, learn "Elevator Speeches" and for those with more experience, learn how to better market through your existing clients.

"Come ready to present your "elevator speech", your best networking idea, or share a story of success. This working lunch will leave you better prepared and motivated to prospect again!"
